DELAYED DISPATCHES.

London, Dec 7—The Times generally confirms the correctness of the Observer's list of the probable members of Gladstone's Cabinet, but asserts that Earl Russell will not accept office and also thinks the appointment of Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and Messrs Bruce, Villiers and Colridge to seats in the Cabinet is doubtful. The Times adds to the Observer's list the name of James Moncriffe, Lord Advocate of Scotland.

LONDON, Dec 7-It is now considered certain that Lord Kimberly will be Lord Privy Seal; and Earl De Grey, President of the Privy Council. said that Sir Roundell Palmer will be appointed Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals; the Earl of Huntington, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; Mr Grosvenor, President of the Poor Law Board; and Henry Bruce, Home Secretary; the latter taking Sir Roundell Palmer's seat in Parliament.

MADRID, Dec 7—Rumors are in cir-culation that the Provisional Governmont intends to postpone the general elections to the 15th January and the meeting of the Cortes until the 15th of February.

DUBLIN, Dec 7-Bismarck has had a prolonged interview with Mr Bancroft, the American Minister.

LIVERPOOL, Dec 10 -- Additional particulars are received of the loss of the Hibernia. The steamship sailed from Hibernia. The steamship sailed from New York November 14th for Glass gow, and sunk November 25th 700 miles westward of the Irish coast. The passengers and crew all took to the five in number; two of these boats have been picked up, and one is known to be capsized and all on board lost. The fate of the people in the re-maining two boats is unknown. It is now certain that fifty-two persons, including the Captain of the Hibernia, are saved; the first mate was drowned. Intelligence from he missing boa's is looked for with great anxiety.

West Indies.

HAVANA, Dec 7-A pitched battle was fought between the regular troops and the rebels at Mount Alta Gracia, near Porto Principe. Each side lost about 500-killed; both parties claim the victory, but it is very difficult to obtain reliable information.

A battle has also been fought at Maran, in which the Spaniards lost 100 killed and the rebels 70.

The latest news from Holquin is favorable to the hopes of the loyalists, and reinforcements have been sent there.

The Diario reports that some rebels entered a private house near Santio and violated four girls in the presence of their parents.

The Small Pox.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :- You are congratulating us on the disappearance of the Small Pox from our midst. Certainly we have great cause of thatklulness -- and while we are free from such a sconrge, let the authorities do all in their power to keep us sc. They must not relax their vigilance; Let all vessels from San Francisco, Puget Sound or the Northern parts of the Colony be boarded by the Health Officer before any passengers or goods are allowed to land, otherwise we must expect a return of a disease which is causing such alarming mortality in San Fran-

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A COUGH.

The following letter has been received from WILLIAM BOARDS, Esq., an extensive agriculturist and land agent, residing at Edmonton, Middlesex:—

"Nightingale Hall, Edmonton.

"Dear Sir,—I have recently suffered much from a most violent cough, proceedin, from a tickling in my chest, which no remedy, out of many I resorted to, could allay. My head was constantly aching, and my whole frame entirely shaken. Having seen the good effects of your Balsam of Anisced in several members of my family, I purchased a small bottle, and, when going to bed at night, took a teaspoonful in two tablespoonfuls of water, just warm. The effect was immediate; it arrested the tickling in my chest, I slept well, and arose perfectly restored in the morning, with the exception of debility, arising from fatigue by incressant coughing for some days previous. My cough entirely left me, and has never returned Having since heard of a lady in the neighborhood who for a long time had laboured under a most distressing cough, and who had resorted to every remedy within her knowledge, I sent here mainder of the bottle to her; and that long-standing, obstinate, and (as she thought) incurable cough, was perfectly cured. You are at perfect liberty to make what use you may please of this communication, as the contents are strictly true I shall take every opportunity of recommending your inestimable medicine, feeling as I do fully assured of its efficacy.

"I am, dear Sir, yours very truly,
"WM. BOARDS.

For Interesting Reading Mattersee 1st page GOVERNOR SEYMOUR, on Thursday, laid before the Council a document which, taken as a whole for practical liberality and common sense excels any previous emanation from the same source we have yet read. It is true, there are parargaphs in the document which would not carry off a prize for perspicuity; but we are honestly of opinion that if His Excellency means but one-half he says, a liberal policy is about to be inaugurated here upon the broad basis of the public good, and to the exclusion of that sedtionalism or petty prejudice of which every Government should be free. The most important clause in the address is the one which redeems in some measure the liberal pledge made shortly after His Excellency's arrival among us to assume charge of the United Colonies. While the concession is not so great as has been asked, we still regard it as a popular victory over officialdom, obtained after a long and severe struggle; and it will be the fault of the people themselves should they fail to secure a still greater triumph during the coming year. A great deal depends, of course, upon the men who are to be selected to act as popular advisers to the Government; and the public should know something of the principles to which they have striven to be true, and of the proofs they have given that they are and will be true to them. But, after all, the question of the men, though it necessarily involves the question of principles, involves much more besides; and no great popular contest can be fairly fought out unless you can obtain well-known representative leaders, perfectly characteristic of the principles they profess, as well as the principles themselves, to struggle for. Another step-not much in itself, but still a stepis made towards liberalizing the Legis lative Council by allowing the people to elect, instead of selecting as heretofore, their leaders and sending their names in for the approval of the Governor. The Judicary remains in as unfortunate a muddle as before. The Judiciary Bill has been disallowed by the Imperial Government and the Governor can hold out no hope of an improvement until one of the two Chief Justices have been provided for elsewhere. Perhaps if the judicial work can be performed by one gentleman without the assistance of a pusine Judge, it would be well to grant a retiring pension to the other-a pension that would be less in amount than the salary-and thus relieve both from the unfortunate and awkward position in which they are placed by the loose and slovenly wording of the Union Act. The peech attacks the unprogressive principle of imposing royalties in cases of mining leases upon Crown Lands, a principle that clogs the proper development of our mineral and fossil wealth by repelling capital. A bill to cure this evil is promised as a Government measure. It will meet with a hearty welcome. The questeon of Reciprocity is to be submitted to the Council. His Excellency asks advice; and it is right that he should have good counsel upon a policy so nearly affecting the whole Colony, the adoption of which would quicken with new life every interest, and open especially to our industrial pursuits a career of prosperity that none among us has realizing sense, According to the Speech, the question of Confed. eration remains stationary, pending the settlement of the Hudson Bay claims to the Northwest Territory; but his Excellency's remark that there is no Englishman who would not rejoice to see a vast State, still under his own flag, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, convinces us that a union with our transmontane brethren has come to be regarded in official circles with a feeling of favor instead of that repugnance so prominently exhibited a year ago. Than this, we require no better evidence of the near scheme for the consolidation of the British North American Colonial Empire. The proposition to establish a Sav.

ings' Bank under Government auspices appears to us absurd. It is one of the objectionable features of the Speech.

A Savings' Bank would contribute to swell the expenses, but would prove a failure so far as any practical public benefit were concerned, no matter how

'good' the security offered by the general revenue might be. If the bupile credit be restored, the simpler and most inexpensive plan would be to borrow the money at a low rate of interest in the London Market and leave the complicated machinery of banking to other and more experience ed hands. The proposition to establish a branch of the Government Assay Office at Cariboo is equally absurd. The principal and only office in the Colony should be located at the diggings. Its retention at New Westminster, at a heavy annual loss; is a source of vexation to the Colony that would not, we are sure, be allowed to exist one moment under Representative Institutions. Upon these two propositions, we trust, the popular advisers will have something to urge in opposition. The financial condition of the country is pronounced satisfactory; the Estimates for 1869 will be "not unreasonable," and the receipts and expenditures for 1868 will, it is believed, approach to within a few dollars the Estimates. His Excellency draws attention to the important reduction ($67,043) which has been made in the annual expenditure since Union; but no further retrenchment is proposed, although there is still room for the application of the pruning-knife. Important improvements in the navigation of the Fraser, the relaying of buoy in the har bors, and the building of a bridge across the harbor at the foot of Johnson street. are urged. The last proposition is another absurdity-not likely to be even put into practice-and if it were, would shut out shipping from free access to the best half of our harbor: The promulgation of the idea, even, tends to depreciate in value the warehouse property lying along Store street. His Excellency suggests that the proposition must lie dormant for a "few years." He should have said, centuries. The Governor, in concluding, draws a not too sanguine picture of the present condition of the Colony and its improved prospects. As we said at the commencement of this article, taken as a whole, from Governor Seymour; and we earnestly trust that it may prove the forerunner of a more enlightened and liberal policy

THE strangest idiosyncrasy of the human race, perhaps, is that of doubting the prace ticability and success of great undertakings, and of offering to the last hour a persistent opposition to their adoption. The Overland railroad, the greatest of modern ideas, is a striking illustration of this pitiful weakness in man. Yet what will its opponents say now to the paragraph we published a day or two since, giving the transit of freight over this line in its present unfinished state? Twelve hundred and seventy-five tons in one week, with five hundred more waiting shipment at Sacramento, and altogether require ing over one hundred and fifty cars, is the grand result presented. Two questions of deep interest to ourselves arise out of this fact. First, is the American Continental railroad, which before it is finished, begins with a freight business of 100,000 tons a year, a success? Second, what can we do to participate in a business destined, when the line is completed, to be of such enormous magnitude? We answer, it is obvious. The line is a success, and the next best thing for Great Britain to do is to imitate the example thus set her. The far-seeing men in San Francisco and Sacramento, to whose persistent efforts the world owes this great boon, always contended that one line would never be sufficient, and their sagacious foresight is now confirmed. Let, then, the people of England take up this idea in earnest, without fear of the future reward. Let them build a line at once over our portion of the continent and that line, like the California line, from the first hour of its existence will be over-crowded with freight. If this idea is not at once taken up by the nation, and carried out with the vigor evinced by the Americans, we may be assured, that in less than two years the merchant marine of England will be reduced to one-third of its present tonnage.

A RUNAWAY TAILOR .- A tailor, whose shop was on Government street about opposite our building, took advantage of the departure of the Active one day last week to pack up his goods and sail away for Portland. Among the articles which he failed to account for were several pairs of trowsers and two coats sent in for repair. The absconder in one instance was really cruel. He took away with him the best and only suit belonging to a worthy citizen and left him sans coat, sans vest, sans trowsers, sans everything but his hat, lying in bed an entire day before the unfortunate man could replace the missing with new garments; and the worst of the story is that the unprincipled ninth part of a man was observed standing on the deck of the steamer as she moved off cutting a dash in the worthy citizen's clothes. Could impudence further go?

THE SMALL POX ON PUGET SOUND-RAV-AGES AMONG THE SHIPPING .- The Bark General Cobb is reported to be at Bellingham Bay with the small pox on board. Several more cases are reported to have occurred at Port Gamble from the ship David Hoadley.

leaped from his bed in a state of delirium and entered a fashionable drinking saloon where a score of persons were ossembled. The crowd fled into the street in a state of great alarm, and it was some time before the poor fellow could be prevailed upon to return to his room:

CONCERT .- The St John's Choral Society which comprises vocalists, amateurs, (not necessarily belonging to the church, which its title might lead some to suppose) will give their second entertainment at the Alhambra Hall, on Tuesday evening next, to which the public are invited by tickets at one dollar each; reserved seats 25 cents extra. The proceeds are to be applied to the liquidation of the St John's Sunday

SACRILEGE .- A case of a serious nature, no less than stealing trees from the Cemetery, was to have come before the Police Court yesterday, but owing to the illness of the person implicated, it was postponed until Tuesday next. Of course, it would be wrong to prejudge the affair before legally investigated; but if sustained, a sufficient example should be made to deter others from a similar disgraceful offence.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER .- The Enterprise with the mails from the lower Fraser returned to port yesterday evening. There were also about forty passengers on board from various sections of the Colony. Hons O'Reilly and Havelock, John Trutch, G J Findlay, J and D Adams, Hare, and Armstrong, among the number. Several Conneillors remain above until after the holidays.

BRIDGES .- We learn that Messre H and E Marriner have completed their bridge across the Cowichan river, near Botterell's farm. The structure is built on piles, driven from 3 to 6 feet into the bed of the river, and for which a pile-driver, constructed on the spot, was used and moved about on rafts. The bridge, including approaches, is 250 feet in length.

SWEET THINGS .- Mr H Waller, of Fort street, yesterday sent us a great variety of English confectionary, of which our staff partook eagerly. If the tone of our paper this morning be more than usually amiable. Waller is the good Santa Claus to whom must be awarded the credit.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY .- The premises of Mr Redfern, jeweler, on Government street, were entered by burglars on Thursday night, through a rear window, and a coal stolen; fortunately the thieves did not succeed in getting through into the shop.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :- There was a letter published in your yesterday's issue under the above caption signed by M W Tyrwhitt Drake, that was evidently published with the view of creating a false suspicion against us amongst the mercantile community, and thus injuring our reputation as honest men, and which we think it would be wrong in us to pass over in silence.

In reference to the late trial in the suit of Muir vs Morton, before the Chief Justice, which lasted several days, Mr Drake makes the following statement :

'Messrs Muir instead of getting $3685, the amount they claimed, only got, including costs, $600, payable in account in China, and different bills of lading to those signed two months ago by the Captain.

Our claim against Captain Morton was Due upon charter party.....$1200

Dae for supplies to Capt Morton and admitted by him..... Twenty cords fire wood sold him Two spars, sold and delivered to him but refused when he found his tackle would not take them on board...... 163 75

There was also a further sum claim. ed for work, labor and supplies to the ship of $121. We had not intended charging this, but when we found how Capt Morton was treating us it was added to the account; it was not however pressed for by us on the trial and was disallowed..... amages claimed for refusal to furnish Bill of Lading 2000

$3685 49 Less Capt Morton's bill of goods against us...... 177 24

Capt Morton claimed that we had shipped the fire wood as cargo, and that as cargo it was liable to freight under the terms of the Charter Party (nearly $40 a cord) a proposition too absurd for comment, and refused to give us Bills of Lading except with 13 cords of fire wood on them as shipped by us. (he reduced his original claim from 20 to 13 cords, but why we could never learn,) and to compel him to give us proper Bills of Lading, damages were laid at $2000. about the value of the cargo beyond the advance to be made upon it by Capt Morton; and Mr Drake theroughly understood that the damages were nominal and would be discharged upon our receiving proper Bills of Lading, and he had the right, if he thought the damages too high, to apply to the Court and have them reduced. Mr Drake was in Court and heard the judgment given by the Chief Justice, but from his letter it would be charitable to suppose that it had been delivered in a tongue unknown to him, so much does his statement differ from it, as the folsel, will clearly show. 1 'That $1200, the residue of the $2,000, became due on October 13th, 1868, but has never been advanced by the defendant to the plaintiff in pursus ance of the said charter party.. $1200 00

lowing extracts from the judgment, disposing of the various points made by our Coun-

2 That $24 for interest for nonpayment of the said sum of $1200 on Oct 13th, 1868, being sixty days' interest at 12 per cent per annum be allowed to plaintiffs....

That nothing was due for dead freight under the charter party, the cord-wood shipped being the property of the defendant. 5 That the plaintiffs costs taxed and allowed at $472 25, be allowed to and recovered by the plaintiffs

6 That $40 for twenty cords of wood sold and delivered, was due to the plaintiff's from defendant, which is the cord wood now on board the vessel Sarah March, and is the property of the captain.....

7 That $163 75 was due to the plaintiffs for certain spars of spruce sold, but that such spars not having been retained by the defendant, only $80 is allowed to the plaintiffs in res, nect of such spars.....

'That $160,74 was due to plain. tiffs for sundry goods sold and delivered.....

In addition to the above sum, amounting to $1977,00 that the Muirs 'got,' and not $600 paid in account in China, as stated by Mr Drake, we were awarded the two spars. Nor was this all the Muirs 'got,' for the Chief Justice clearly saw the attempted fraud of Captain Morton in regard to the firewood, and decided that the Bill of Lading question, which was in reality the most im.

of Attorney, to refer the whole matter in dispute to the sole arbitrament of Capt Raymur and twice Mr Drake prevented the wishes of the parties in interest being carried out. Mr Drake made a proposition to refer to are bitration on Saturday, October 31st, 1868, on the basis of the others that he had thwarted namely, he to deposit the sum of S3300 in each and drafts which Uapt Morton had left with him for the purpose of giving security and settling our claims, in the joint names of himself and our solicitor, and to refer all matters, as previously agreed between Captain Morton's Attorney-in-fact and ourselves, to the sole arbitrament of Capt Raymur. We accepted the proposition, and he was requested to sigh the memorandum, so to bring the matter to a close. He refused to do this but said he would get the Captain's signature and communicate with us on the following Monday, and the very next morning after we had accepted his proposi tion, three men went down to Sooke to get the ship out of the harbor and away from the jurisdiction of the Court, and on Monday instead of going into the arbitration, as we expected, we received information that the ship was being taken to sea. Mr Drake refused to go on with the arbitration, and the ship got away. We naturally believed that he still had the funds in his possession, and bence the motion before the Chief Justice to compel him to pay the same into Court, which he, for his own purpose, chooses to regard as a personal matter, and from his extremely unpleasant demeanor to all persons taking any action in our concerns we have come to the conclusion that even he finds it more amusing and profitable to fight for such a jolly client as one who puts his funds in his hands and then goes into hiding, and cannot question the management of his affairs, than to be interested either pecuniarily or personally in any suit.

We have not gone into this suit for our own amusement or with the desire of coercing Capt Morton. From the first we offered to refer it to the sole arbitrament of a gentleman of their own nomination, both before and after proceedings were taken, and have never for a moment receded from that offer even in court, when we learned that M Drake held a power of Attorney to settle and could have settled with us at any time since the commencement of the proceedings had it answered his purpose, and also learned that the $1300 left in his hands by Cap Morton had dwindled down to about $300, upon which he claimed a lien for costs; and that on the 24th October the draft for £400 had been returned to Capt Morton, that he was negotiating with us to deposit as security on the 31st October. We were still glad to get the case settled, and we feel very thankful to the Chief Justice for having pointed out a way to bring these harrassing and to us ruinous proceedings to a close.

If these legal proceedings are so unpalat able to Mr Drake, to whom they cost comparatively nothing, what must they be to us whose very existence almost depends on our getting our engagements carried out? We toiled literally night and day to out the cargo for the Sarah March, and it seems a very crue! treatment that we have received from Mr Drake-not the least part of which is the false impression intended to be conveyed by his letter, which, if uncontradicted cannot fail to greatly injure our credit in this community.

We are, your obedient servants, MUIR BROTHERS.
